Series and Game Notes

The Gators and Hurricanes are meeting for the 52nd time with the Hurricanes owning a slight 26-25 lead. This is the second installment of a two-year home-and-home revival of the in-state rivalry. A season ago, Miami defeated Florida, 41-16, in Gainesville. Of the 51 previous meetings between the two schools, 24 have been settled by a touchdown or less...Prior to the 2002 season, the two schools had not met during the regular season since 1987 although they did face each other on Jan. 2, 2001 in the Nokia Sugar Bowl with Miami winning 37-20. Overall, UF has face Miami more times than any other non-conference opponent and Miami has face Florida more times than any opponent in its history overall.

The teams first met in 1938 and played every year (except 1943) until 1987... Both teams have a losing record on its home field with UF holding a 14-12 edge at the Orange Bowl and the Hurricanes enjoying a 12-8 advantage at Florida Field...The two teams have also played twice in Jacksonville (1958 and 1959) once in Orlando (1976) once in Tampa (1984) and once in New Orleans for the 2001 Sugar Bowl...The teams last met in Miami in 1987 with Miami winning 31-4.

Several of the games have been historic. UF handed Miami its only loss during the 1983 National Championship season, beating the Hurricanes 28-3 in Gainesville. The 1984 game at Tampa Stadium, a 32-20 Miami win, was the first collegiate game ever televised on ESPN. After UF's 35-20 win over Miami at the Orange Bowl on Sept. 7, 1985 the Hurricanes did not lose at home again until Sept. 24, 1994 (38-20 to Washington) an NCAA record winning streak of 58 home games.
