

Florida ranks THIRD among all Division I programs in total points earned in the 15-year history of the National All-Sports Rankings.

Florida and UCLA are the only schools in the nation to finish in the top 10 in the national all-sports rankings every year since the 1983-84 academic year.

Gender Equity

The University of Florida women's athletics program, which was named the nation's No. 2 women's program in the August 1999 and 2000 issues of Sports Illustrated for Women - the only two years the publication produced such a list - has long been a great source of pride for Gator fans.

Florida funds the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA for each of its 10 women's sports, totaling 109 scholarships for the 2008-09 season. Additionally, Florida will add a women's lacrosse team, which begins play in the spring of 2010.

SEC LEADER

The Gators have captured the overall Southeastern Conference All-Sports title in all but three of the last 21 years.

CONFERENCE CROWNS

Florida's 180 SEC titles lead the league's all-time totals.

GATOR SLAM

The Gator football team's win in the 2007 BCS National Championship game made Florida the first athletic program to hold both the men's basketball and football national titles in the same calendar year. In April of 2007, the men's basketball team won its second consecutive NCAA title, making the Gator program the first to hold both the football and men's basketball titles in the same academic year.

TOP TEAMS

Since 1980, Florida teams have ranked in the final top 10 national poll in their respective sports 250 times, including 12 teams in 2007-08. Gator teams have finished among the nation's top three 88 times since 1980.

INDIVIDUAL ACCOLADES

Since 1980, Gator student-athletes have won 171 individual national titles and earned 3,104 All-America honors. Overall, UF student-athletes have captured 214 individual national titles and 3,543 All-America accolades.

FANTASTIC FACILITIES

Florida facilities are among the best in the nation! Since 1986 there have been more than $199.3 million in capital improvements, including two major expansions of the football stadium, a multipurpose athletic field house, new facilities for tennis, track & field, soccer, baseball, golf, softball and swimming, in addition to the basketball practice complex. The UAA played a role in the $4.1 million academic advising center on the University of Florida campus.

GIVING BACK

In an era when the NCAA estimates 84 percent of Division I schools are losing money on intercollegiate athletics, the Gator athletic program continued to have an impact in regard to University academic programs. Since 1990, the University Athletic Association has contributed more than $48.2 million to the University to fund academic endeavors.

2007-08 Was Another Stellar Season For Gator Athletics!

Florida Gators Quarterback Tim Tebow made history in 2007 by becoming the first sophomore ever to win the Heisman Trophy, college football's most coveted award.

The 2007-08 Gator softball team advanced to its first-ever Women's College World Series, after capturing the SEC regular-season and Tournament championships.

Florida soccer collected its eighth SEC title, also winning its eighth SEC Tournament championships and advancing to the NCAA Round of 16.

The Florida women's golf team won its eighth overall SEC Championship and first-ever NCAA regional title, en route to a ninth-place showing at the NCAA Championship during the 2007-08 season.

The 2008 Gator women's tennis team captured the 23rd SEC Regular-Season Championship in the 29-year history of the event, the most team titles won by any other league school in any women's sport. Florida went on to reach the NCAA Final Four for the 19th time in the last 22 years.

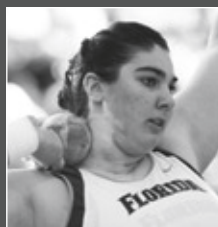

The Gators won their 17th straight SEC title, tying the NCAA women's volleyball record for the most consecutive conference championships.

Sophomore Gemma Spofforth successfully defended her NCAA 200-yard backstroke title and added the 100-yard backstroke crown in 2008. Spofforth represented Great Britain at the 2008 Olympic Games, just missing a medal with her fourth-place finish in the 100-meter backstroke. Her time in the event, however, set a new European record.

Caroline Burckle was the 2008 recipient of the Swimming & Diving Honda Sports Award as the top collegiate swimmer of the year. She claimed the 200- and 500- yard freestyle titles at the 2008 NCAA Championships. Burckle later secured a spot on the 2008 U.S. Olympic Team, earning a bronze medal in the 800-meter free relay.

Mariam Kevkhishvili claimed Florida's first national title in the shot put at the 2008 NCAA Indoor Championships. Kevkhishvili represented her home country of Georgia at the 2008 Olympic Games.

UF athletic teams matched the school record of 12 top-10 finishes in 2007-08, marking the seventh consecutive year that 10 or more Gator athletic teams finished among the nation's top 10.
